AVIS Presented Reservation

The Andover Village Improvement Society has just received a substantial gift of land for another major reservation to be preserved for the townspeople of Andover, through the will of John Gardner Greene, philanthropist, humanist and educator, and longtime friend of AVIS official Harold Rafton.

The new reservation comprises 31 acres of high ridge, slope, level ground and cattail swamp, lying between Andover Street and Dascomb Road opposite Indian Ridge Country Club land, and extending to most of Barnard Road. AVIS's eighth major reservation will be dedicated next spring as the "Ann Rawlins Greene Reservation", in accordance with the wishes of the society's benefactor who died in June, 1969, at the age of 64.

Greene included the eventual gift of land to AVIS as part of the terms of a trust a half dozen years ago, after Rafton suggested he consider the possibility. The two men were close friends, fellow members of the American Humanist Society, and Rafton told the TOWNSMAN he never expected that the legacy of Greene, 14 years his junior, would be fulfilled during his own lifetime.

Like all AVIS reservations, the Ann Rawlins Greene Reservation will be open to the public, with opportunities for snowshoeing and skiing in the winter, hiking and other recreation the rest of the year. The 31 acres includes a high bony ridge, an extension of Indian Ridge, two cattail swamps, where a variety of swamp flowers appear in spring, and a natural amphitheatre which AVIS hopes to develop for community use.

This past cold Monday morning as Rafton enthusiastically led reporters along the high oak-wooded ridge, children's sled tracks down the freshly snowed sides of the ridge attested to the recreational appeal of John Gardner's gift of land. So did a rival pair of air-conditioned tree-forts. The neighborhood kids evidently have been enjoying the Ann Rawlins Greene Reservation all along.

In the same trust Greene made another unusual gift to promote the improvement of education in Andover.

On the two-acre triangle of land nearest where Dascomb and Andover Streets meet stands a dwelling, with a garage, which Greene reserved from the AVIS land. The trust gives this dwelling and acreage, plus $25,000 for its maintenance, to a non-profit organization recently formed for the express purpose of receiving the property and attempting to carry out Greene's wishes.

The organization is the Andover Education Improvement Association, which now includes Andover's public school teachers, with membership immediately extended

Ecology Problems To Be Met

The problems of ecology are apparent in this new decade and the town is going to have to face them, at a probably costly sum.

Coming under the umbrella of ecology, and commented upon this week by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin are such items as river cleanup and solid waste disposal.

Austin noted that this year the town will be moving, at town meeting, to remove waste from the Shawsheen river.

Also the town will be providing funds for the Merrimack River Regional Pollution Abatement district. The regional commission is moving toward cleaning up the Merrimack.

As for the town disposal site, not too much will be presented to the 1971 town meeting. There is a need for an additional site,

To Request FinCom Funds For Repair Of Equipment

The Finance committee will be asked to transfer funds from the reserve account to allow repairs to be made at the Fish Brook pumping station and also to the Ballardvale Well on Andover street.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reported this week that repairs at the two stations are necessary and should be taken care of now.

At the Fish Brook station, a chlorine leak there caused corrosion of some of the machinery, resulting in repairs estimated to cost in the vicinity of $8 - $10,000.

The manager feels that insurance may cover the majority of the cost, but the repairs are necessary now.

The station will soon be in service reclaiming water from the Haggetts Pond watershed area and placing it back in the pond. Since this generally is initiated in January, it will be necessary to have all equipment in functional order.

At the Ballardvale well, which is also a supplement to the town's water supply, a submersible pump is in need of repair.

Cost of the repair is estimated at $5,000.

The well provides about one-half million gallons of water per day when in operation.

Both projects being considered as immediate need, will place them before the FinCom for financing, since funds would not otherwise be available until after the March town meeting.

Meanwhile, the selectmen and the town manager have begun work on the 1971 budget.

The selectmen have begun noon working sessions examining the various departmental requests which, in the preliminary budget, indicate an increase of $7 in the tax rate, without consideration of special articles.

Town Manager Austin has asked all department heads to submit special articles to him by Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Austin explained that the articles do not have to necessarily be complete, but as long as the subject matter is there, it will afford him, the selectmen and Finance committee an opportunity to be thinking about what is facing them in the months ahead.

The major town meeting article is anticipated to be the Doherty school addition at $1,900,500, which will be a bond issue.

In projects underway this week, the underground cable for the fire alarm system is being replaced in areas where it has become necessary.

The town appropriated $10,000 (Continued on Page 40)

To Examine Situation On Guards

A reevaluation of the crossing guard use in town is being undertaken, according to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

He said this week that he had asked Police Chief David L. Nicoll to look into the situation with regard to work load and placement of the guards, in view of the problems in Shawsheen.

A week ago, Shawsheen residents complained to the school committee about the necessity of kindergarten children having to cross the busy Shawsheen Square intersection. They had requested the youngsters be bused, but the school committee failed to respond.

The town manager was asked by the school department to examine the problem with regard to possibly having a walking guard to assist the youngsters from the school through the square.

This has led to Austin's request for the police chief to look into the situation.

The manager feels that some solution to the problem will come from the evaluation.

Selectman To Bid For Re-Election

Selectman Roger W. Collins has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election in the March town election.

He has served as a member of the board for the past seven years and will be seeking another three year term.

He is the first candidate to officially announce his candidacy. Selectman William Stewart, whose term also expires in March will not seek re-election.

During the past two years, Collins has served as vice chairman of the board and prior to that served for three years as secretary of the board.

Learning Disability Group To View Videotape Talk

The regular monthly meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will be held on Dec. 14 at 8 p.m., at the Ballard Vale United Church. One of the features of the evening will be a videotape of a recent speech by Dr. Hyman Gardsbane, president of the National A.C.I.D. outlining the role of the Association. Dr. Gardsbane covers the constructive role of the parent, chapter activities, workshops and projects.

The bulk of the evening will be a cracker barrel session covering a number of subjects and moderated by Mrs. Edith Sanborn and Mrs. Maureen Lawton. One of the subjects covered will be the new program pioneered in the Merrimack Valley called Up With Children. The program was initiated by Dr. Donald Maietta, of 22 Bannister Road, who is an associate Professor at the Boston University School of Education where he is coordinator of its Graduate Program in Learning Disabilities. In this program children are brought together in compatible groups of three or four, on a weekly basis, building up the child's social skills through recreation, fun times, sports, etc. There will be reports on the progress of the programs, the responses of the children, the reaction of the parents and an evaluation by professionals.

The association held its board of directors meeting at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Maietta. Officers and directors include: Dr. Raymond Sparks, Martin Sanborn, Mrs. Maureen Lawton, Mrs. Adena Cicione, Mrs. Martha Eaton, Mrs. Barbara Mitton, Mrs. Helen Rindge, Mrs. Edith Sanborn, Neil Mitton, Mr. C. Stanley Rich, Mrs. Lynne Loscutoff and Mrs. Rita Leigh.

The public is invited to attend.

REAL ESTATE CORNER

by Marjorie C. Kidd

Do you know what service a Realtor can render?

First of all, a Realtor is a legally licensed and active member of the local real estate board.

A brief and informative file on all real estate offered for purchase by his office is kept for the benefit of a prospective buyer.

A Realtor lists your property for sale and endeavors to find a buyer for it.

An interested buyer can enlist the services of a Realtor to find a particular piece of property that may suit his needs.

Property management is another important phase of real estate. The issuance of leases, the collection of rents, maintenance and upkeep of a property and services for the absentee landlord can all be overseen by your Realtor.

A Realtor is in a position to know where the best and most economical financing may be available to a purchaser of property.

Who handles all kinds of real estate? We do at JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR. No matter what your real estate needs, we'll be happy to serve you. Remember, a qualified staff member is always available at JAMES T. TREFREY, REALTOR, 5 Lowell St., phone 475-0622. Open daily 9 till 5, Sundays and evenings by appointment. Serving you since 1936!

WATCH NEXT WEEK FOR:

"Do you know what a Realtor can do for you?"

Merrimack President John R. Ahern, O.S.A., who has been leading a campaign to have the state upgrade tuition aid programs for families attending private colleges said "private colleges and universities - church related or not - will face the critical problems confronting elementary and secondary parochial schools unless the Commonwealth reverses outdated policies effecting all private educational institutions."

In a letter to Archbishop Medeiros, the Merrimack College president said:

"I commend you for your leadership in calling attention to the need for state aid to assist the parochial educational system of Massachusetts.

"During the last several months, Merrimack College has been attempting to alert the Commonwealth to the grave dangers created by inequitable and outdated state policies related to higher education. I feel that Massachusetts, for the benefit of all taxpayers, must give more attention to the important role of private institutions that service all levels of education in the Commonwealth.

"In line with your proposal and in keeping with our effort, I respectfully forward for your information and consideration:

1) A study of the Impact of Merrimack College on the Lower Merrimack Valley of Massachusetts.

2) A letter, dated May 27, 1970, to Governor Francis W. Sargent concerning the existing tuition-aid program of the Commonwealth.

"I share your view that current trends will prohibit many families from utilizing the private educational system, and it is my hope that you will accept this letter as an endorsement of your effort.

"I also take this opportunity to volunteer the resources of Merrimack College to assist the Archdiocese in this critical matter."

A fellow can't be blamed for his start in life -- it's his finish that he is responsible for.

20 Teams See Action

By Frank Monette

All 20 teams in the Andover YMCA Basketball league saw action, with their first games, while the Intermediate Division was playing their second contest of the season.

The following results occurred in Saturday's action.

In the Pee-Wee Division at the Y court, the Bears clawed the Rhinos 16-6. At the half it was a tie game at 6 to 6, but then the Bears got hot hands, outscoring the Rhinos 10-0 in the second half. The Bears were led by Capt. Mark Brennan's 6 points as teammates Tim Tiernan popped in 4 points and Mike Scanlon, Eugene Bernhardt and Will Washburn tossed in a bucket apiece. The Rhinos were led by Capt. George Donovan with 4 points and Mark Lyons 2 points and tough defense by Kent Reinker and John Ward.

In the second game the Cougars out-grewled the Lions 14-5, as the Cougars got a fine well-balanced scoring attack, led by Capt. Kevin Muldoon's 5 points, as Marty Solomon, John Catalano, Richard O'Hara, and Jim Arnold each swished in 2 points, while Joe Develis scored 1 point on a charity toss to round out the scoring. The Lions were led by Andy Sambuco, and Andy Socha 2 points each and Brian Detrick 1 point and fine defense by Ted Vocell and Joe Smyth.

In the Pee-Wee contests at the Voke-Tech gym, the Pintos out-zinged the Broncos in a squeaker 16-14. The Pintos were led by hot-shots Capt. Dave Farrell and Eddy Collins with 8 points apiece, as Ted Paris and Frank Pelletier led the defense. The Broncos were led by the sharpshooting of Capt. John McEwen and Kevin Fogarty's 6 points and a bucket by Joel Smith, with fine floor play by Dave Smith and Mark Juarez.

In the final Pee-Wee game the Tigers battered the Rams 16-2, behind Capt. Jeff Bragdon's 6 points, Bob Zwicker's 8 points and a hoop by Brian Bresnahan, with aggressive play from Rick Heislein and Mark Pawlik. For the Rams Gary Cairns averted a shutout with a bucket in the last 2 minutes with an assist from Brian Bronson, and some interceptions by Capt. Chris Martha and Willy Nikonchuk.

In the Junior division, U.S.C. topped Notre Dame 32-17. The first half ended with a close 10-9 score in favor of U.S.C., but then U.S.C. went on a 16-4 scoring spree in the third quarter to put the game out of reach. Labeeb Abboud led the victory with 16 points (10 in the 3rd quarter), Capt. Jay Doherty banked in 10 markers with numerous rebounds, Neil Rosenberg popped in 4 points and Fred Rau chipped in with 2 points and some fine assists, with good defense by Tim Paris. For Notre Dame Gerry Cox and Jay Martha swished 6 points each, Bob Muldoon and George Lannon popped in 2 points while Capt. Daryl Gustafson tossed in a free-throw.

In another contest St. Bonaventure skipped past Jacksonville 22-16, on a fine team effort as 7 players got into the scoring act. Led by Capt. Brian Twomey and Dave Bronson's 6 points each and 2 pointers by David Rosenberg, Omar Abboud, Mark Davey, Hiram Samel, and David Dauber. For Jacksonville Capt. Scott Hammar starred with 10 points, with 2 markers each from teammates Ricky Collins, Brian White and Glen Brody.

In a third game Stanford rolled over Dartmouth 27-11, as the winners were led by Capt. Tom Duffy's net-burning 19 points, Mitchell Rousseau 4 points, and a bucket each by Mike Issenberg and Danny Ackroyd, with Brian McGann and Tom Coffey assisting in many fine plays. For Dartmouth Capt. George Bragdon flipped in 5 points, Mike Witt 4 markers and Mark Dilorio stuffed 2 points through the nets, as Randy Hayman and Tom Black held the defense together.

In the final Junior game Ohio State outlasted U.C.L.A. 28-18, as the two teams entered the final quarter with a tie game at 16-16, in a nip and tuck game for three quarters, but then Ohio outscored U.C.L.A. 12-2 over the final quarter on the hot hands of Capt. Richard Rosetti who scored 8 points in that session and 16 points for the game. Also coming up with some crucial scoring was Dan Billings 6 points, Mark Conlon 4 points and Kevin Kenney 2 markers, with aggressive play from Paul Barry and Ray Rau. For U.C.L.A. Capt. Mark Shonis scooped in 8 tallies, Bruce Slovlin netted 6 points and Paul VanSacker and Robert Daly found the range for 2 pointers, with some fine steals from Dave Mirisola and Richard Daly.

In Intermediate division play the Knicks took over sole possession of first place as they bombed the Pistons who were playing with only 4 players present 62-26. For the victory Bob Murgia zinged the strings for 22 points, Co-Capt. Dave Lockwood and Pat Fay dropped 14 points each into the nets and Co-Capt. Tim Lannon popped in 12 points, while Dan King played an aggressive floor game. For the Pistons Jeff Berenson was the sharpshooter stuffing 10 points over the rim as south-paw Mark Travis scooped in 8 points and Capt. Steve Brody and big John Paris swished 2 buckets each.

In the final game of the day the Lakers came from behind to defeat the Celtics 32-28 in a real cliff-hanger. Entering the final quarter with the score 25-23 in favor of the Celtics the Lakers combined a tough defense with the hot shooting of Co-Capt. Barry Bronson who had all of the Lakers 9 points against the Celtics 3 points in the final quarter and a game high of 19 points followed by teammates Bill DeLuca's 8 ringers, Co-Capt. Bob Gildea and John Juarez 2 hoops, and a single marker by Greg Winn and fine floor play by Dave Hempstead. For the Celtics a well-balanced attack was led by Co-Capt. Dave Barr's 8 points Bob Petersbanked in 7 points, Co-Capt. Jeff Sheehy swished 6 points, Brian Ahern stuffed 4 points, Duncan Black popped in 2 points and Mark Hammar dropped in a free throw as Keith Kenney and Bob Peterson chipped in with rebounds and assists.

New Service

Memorial Hall Library is happy to present a new service to the citizens of Andover, a gift for everyone who likes sculpture. With a beginning collection of five pieces, you may now borrow sculpture the same way you take out books, records, and art prints. These beautiful replicas of famous bronzes, marbles, etc. have been separately hand cast in a medium known as Albastone by the Alva Museum Replicas, Inc. of New York. They are on display now through the middle of January, after which time you may borrow them, one at a time for two months, to enjoy in your own home. The first pieces, chosen by Miss Fold, Director of the library, are as follows:

1. La Petite Parisienne by Paul Gauguin, 11 3/4" incl. base. This example of strong Impressionist influence depicts a "stylish French lady of the period of about 1880".
2. Statuette of a cat. Original of bronze, Egyptian (XXVI dynasty, 663-525 B.C.) 12 1/2", incl. base. An example of animal worship, part of the earliest Egyptian religion. This copy shows that the original must have been "of rare majestic beauty."
3. The Kiss by August Rodin, 12" incl. base. The enlarged marble original of this work is well known and admired. The bronze reduction from which this replica was made is in the National Gallery of Art in Washington.
4. Horse - Greek, about 470 B.C., 18" incl. base. "The original of this cast is artistically probably the most important single object in the classical collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York."
5. Head of Coco by Pierre-Auguste Renoir, 17" incl. base. Late in life, his exploratory nature led Renoir to try sculpture. This charming head is of his young son.

Movies

The library again reminds the Senior Citizens of Andover that a film program will be held on Dec. 17, at the Baptist Church on Central St., at 2 p.m. There are no stairs to climb, use the side entrance. The library wants to make this a Christmas party and will serve coffee and cookies to those in attendance. Take a rest in the midst of the busy Christmas season to enjoy a movie and talk with your friends.

More than 200,000 workers were due $29 million as a result of minimum wage underpayment during fiscal 1970. Minimum wage underpayments showed an 8 percent increase during that period. During the same period, 284,000 employees were due $54 million as a result of overtime violations.

An Andover citizen shared with two packed audiences of Andover High School students his experiences this September as a desert hostage of Palestinian commandoes.

While Richard Morse was en route home from a stay in India as a consulting economist, his plane was hijacked by Palestinian commandoes after leaving Frankfurt, Germany; the passengers were flown to a desert site near Amman, Jordan, and held captive for 20 days while their lives served as bargaining chips in tense international negotiations.

Morse recounted the jeopardy and suspense of the experience in carefully chosen matter-of-fact terms to completely silent, rapt audiences. The economist also shared with the students the complexities of Mid-East Arab-Israeli confrontations and particularly the festering unsolved 22-year old Palestinian refugee problem, which he described as a source of today's Palestinian commando activity.

The speaker had to relive his experience twice on Monday, since the high school does not have an auditorium, only a "large group room" which accomodates one-quarter of the student body.

First came a blow-by-blow account of the hijacking, with complete suspense gripping all the passengers on the TWA flight, suspense as to their destination, the intentions of the hijackers, and, initially, their own safety.

The next morning passengers on the grounded plane awoke to see 20 Jordanian army tanks lined up facing the plane. Facing the Jordanian tanks, who had come to rescue the prisoners, were less than 150 commandoes with rifles. But, Morse said, it was plain that what seemed possible rescue was only illusion, because the commandoes had made it plain to the outside world that the plane was wired for explosion, with the passengers in it. The Jordanians army tanks were checkmated. They couldn't make a move.

The commandoes' personal conduct toward passengers was one of respect and reassurance from the first, Morse reported; this was altogether at odds with the death threats of their public negotiating stance to the world. The passengers, in their isolation, did not hear or read of the death threats, and only learned of them gradually. The commandoes seemed confident that they would not be forced to carry them out.

Anti-Israeli and anti-Western attitudes were very evident, Morse said, but no personal animosity toward the American passengers, including the 70 or 80 Jewish Americans. There was initial suspicion towards 7 or 8 American Jews who held double citizenship in Israel, on the grounds that they might be Israeli military personnel. But all captives were well treated, and fed as well as possible, and kosher food was even brought in when possible, for the orthodox.

The commandos' objectives began to emerge, Morse said, and he described these as (1) to increase commando prestige in the Arab world; (2) to focus world attention on the 22 year old refugee problem, and (3) to disrupt the cease fire and peace talks.

Morse described commando attempts to impress prisoners with the justice of their cause. After the second night, one of the commandos, a woman, walked up the aisle saying: "You have lived in discomfort for two nights. We (referring to refugees) have lived in discomfort and hardship for 22 years."

Morse himself was taken off the plane after five days with the remaining men, and spent the next five in commando headquarters, at Zerga. At this time, all women and children were released. Morse had special praise for a Jewish American girl who spoke Arabic, and acted as interpreter. Sarah Mulka won the respect of prisoners and commandos alike, he said, for her courage, buoyancy and leadership. What Morse did not say Monday was that he himself was singled out as a leader and spokesman for prisoners. Morse and Sarah Mulka met and were pictured with President Nixon, after their release.

The last ten days were the most dangerous, Morse said, since the men spent these in Amman, which was under shell, mortar and machine gun fire in the midst of civil war.

The American economist probably went into the experience with more understanding of the mid-East situation than the average passenger on the flight. He told the TOWNSMAN that he and his wife had visited the Palestinian refugee camps in the Gaza strip in 1949, more than 20 years ago, on their way home from India.

His September experience "updated" his impressions, and he thinks that the experience left most passengers with open minds, and a conviction of the need of clearing away of preconceived notions to help begin to settle Mid-East problems.

Morse left a hopeful note; his assessment of the younger generation of Palestinian commandos as "not dogmatic, not wedded to violence for the sake of violence, but adjustable to political realities and looking for solutions. He said their minimum requirement was some measure of return to Palestine, and the objective seems to be to increase their power to the point that they can come to the negotiating table with Israel, and, with outside help, find a solution.

Outing Club Winter Term Concludes

The fall term program of the Andover YMCA Boys' Outing Club was climaxed last Saturday when a group of 32 members and fathers participated in their final activity for the term.

In the morning the group enjoyed airplane rides over Essex County taking off from the Lawrence airport in North Andover with pilot Charles Richmond. Athletic contests were conducted for boys waiting their turns to fly. Following a cookout the entire group participated in a rocket launching program at the home of Trip Director Richard Chapell. Awards were presented to place winners in each of several categories of competition.

Award winners were as follows: Craftsmanship (kit) - first, Anthony Coumans, second, George Chapell, third, tie, Peter Barrett and Doug Beattie; Craftsmanship (handmade) - first, Carl West, second, Steve Kent, third, Kirk Richmond; Time aloft - first, Kirk Richmond, second, Anthony Coumans, third, Steve Kent; Closest to launch - first, George Chapell, second, Kirk Richmond, third, Steve Kent.

A week earlier the Girls' Outing Club for grades 4-6 participated in a bicycle ride in the West Andover area under Trip Director Mrs. Rosemary Fitzgerald. For both girls groups these programs brought the fall program to a close.

Winter term programs for all three Outing Clubs will begin early in January. Interested boys and girls may register for the winter term program beginning Dec. 17 at the Andover YMCA.

Women's Club

The Shawsheen Village Women's Club held their December meeting on Monday, Dec. 7 at the Andover Country Club. Mrs. Frank Stevenson presided.

Mrs. Bruno Wojtkun, Ways and Means Chairman, thanked her committee and all members of the club who helped make the "Creative Art Show and Fair" such a success.

Following the traditional Was-sail Bowl, Mrs. Pricilla Ganley, dramatic soprano, and Miss Nellie Zimmer, harpist, presented a varied program of songs and harp music for the Christmas season.

Dramatic Monologue
At Service

The Sunday worship service at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, Dec. 13 at 10:30 a.m. will be: "There Was Eden" a dramatic monologue presentation created and performed by Natalie Lombard.

In developing her theme, Miss Lombard uses mime, dance, dramatic reading and a full score of recorded music. The underlying theme of "There Was Eden" is man's need to communicate and to relate. Miss Lombard has written and presents a timeless documentary in which Eve is as much a part of our Eden as we are of hers. The Human Figure, who represents mankind, has learned that only through involvement can real communication be effected.

"There Was Eden" was first staged as part of the requirement for a Master of Theater degree at Northwestern University in June of 1968. Since then, Miss Lombard has performed this monodrama before many church, synagogue and community groups throughout
New England and the Midwest.

Music To Feature Meeting

Members of the Andover Historical Society are anticipating the Christmas meeting, Dec. 17, 8 p.m. when there will be a musical program presented by the Community Music Center of Boston.

The young performers are students of violinist Izidorius Vasyliunas and recorder teacher, Steven Silverstein.

A non-profit organization supported by foundations and interested individuals, the present Community Center is the result of a 1968 merger of the former South End Music Center and the Boston Community Music School. Both schools have been serving the Boston community since 1910. Students ranging in age from four to eighty come to the centers at 32 Rutland Street and 251 Commonwealth Avenue from the entire metropolitan area and suburbs for private instruction classes and ensembles in all fields of music. A sliding scale tuition makes it possible for persons in all economic circumstances to enjoy the centers offerings.

Miss Susan Hill, daughter of Mrs. Ralph H. Hill of Forbes Lane, a graduate of Abbot Academy and Harvard University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences is the Director of the Center.

Christmas readings and carol singing will add to the enjoyment of the evening. Mrs. A. Glenn Hanson and Mrs. Edward F. Stokham will be in charge of the social hour when hot cranberry punch, egg nog, Christmas cakes and cookies will be served.

Family Concert At Museum

'Tis the season to be jolly -- For Christmas music and holiday cheer you are invited to join the merriment at a special family concert at the Museum of Fine Arts on Saturday, Dec. 12 from 3 to 5 p.m.

The Milton Academy Glee Club, 130 mixed-voices under the direction of Howard Abel, will give a concert of Christmas music in the museum rotunda. Included in the program are such favorites as "O bone Jesu," by Palestrina; "The Last Words of David," by Randall Thompson; "Behold a Star from Jacob Shining," by Mendelssohn; and many traditional English and French carols accompanied by flute and oboe.

Following the concert refreshments of gaily decorated cookies and fruit punch will be served in the tapestry hall.

For this special event the main stairway of the museum has been transformed into a fantasy of life-size golden angels against a background of tiny twinkling lights.

Mrs. Robert Hargrove of Lexington and Mrs. Donald McLean of Brookline are co-chairmen of this event which is part of the museum's Family Affairs series of Saturday programs. Mrs. Henry F. Cate, Jr. of Duxbury, chairman-elect of the Ladies Committee, is in charge of decorations.

Christmas Customs To Be Featured

A Christmas Carol*Greater love hath no man than this.—John 15:13*

HE lived alone in a cheerless tenement in a dim alley in the heart of the squalid and congested East Side of London. Who he was, from whence he came, what he did, nobody seemed to know. To tell the truth, nobody appeared to care. A stooped, pinched and shabby little figure with an air of timorous shyness and haunting pathos about him, he looked for all the world as if he had just emerged from a drawing by Daumier. When he went out, he was swallowed up immediately in the immensity of the metropolis. When he came back, he retired at once unto himself. He seemingly lived in the desolation of utter loneliness and the hopelessness of abject poverty—a forgotten man submerged in the teeming population of the vast city.

As the Winter set in, he was seen less and less. For several days before Christmas, he was not seen at all. Then some incident with which I am not familiar led the authorities to visit his wretched habitation. They found him dead—dead on the greatest day in the Christian calendar, a victim of acute privation and long neglect. As he had lived by himself, apparently alienated from his fellowmen, so he had died, with no one to smooth his pillow for the last time, or to say a prayer or utter even so much as a friendly word to mitigate the pangs of departure into the great unknown.

When they took out his pathetic remains, consigned no doubt to a potter's grave, the neighbors merely shrugged their shoulders. Another poor devil gone, who was doubtless a sore burden to himself and certainly of no possible good to anybody else. Then they dismissed him from mind. There was, however, one fact that the neighbors did not know.

When the authorities examined his poor and meager effects, they found literally thousands of receipts for postal orders. They covered a period of many years. They were not large in individual amounts but they represented hundreds of English pounds in the aggregate. They all went to charities—charities of all kinds, without discrimination as to race, creed or color of the beneficiaries. Orphanages, hospitals, shelters, homes for the aged, all manner of institutions for the relief of human misery in all its pitiful forms were included in the benefactions. Yes, and among the list animal welfare societies had not been forgotten. The last receipt was for a contribution to the Salvation Army to buy Christmas dinners for the poor.

This man had lived in extreme penury and died in utter destitution that the least of these, his brethren, might be administered unto in their helplessness, want and suffering—that those who were hungry might be given meat, that those who were thirsty might be given drink, that the stranger might be taken in, the naked clothed, and the sick visited. The brief item I read in a London paper some years ago, and upon which this story is based, gave no hint of the personal drama or inner crisis—if such there was—which led to this great renunciation. But surely in some way the transforming power and grace of that love and compassion which Jesus insistently preached and consistently lived and died to vindicate, had quickened the heart and possessed the soul of this man of the London slums, and had become the absorbing passion of his life.

SELECTMEN ARE WORKING to lease McArdle House for Recreation Department's Student Activity Center, while the DPW man down front is doing chiller work on Central Street.

SAC Center Has Support

The board of selectmen solidly approved in principle the proposal for having a Student Activity Drop-in center in the McArdle house on Central street at a special meeting last week, and has begun working out legal terms of a lease with the building's owner, Danton Realty, through the town counsel.

The firm is asking only the building's tax bill for rent, according to Town Manager Maynard Austin. The building stands next to and across the street from the professional buildings on Central Street, just down from the bank parking lot, and has been empty for some time.

The young people have committed themselves to working on repairs and renovations of the building to meet safety requirements and render it usable. SAC members are raising money for materials needed, through various projects -- beginning with a carnival planned in the West Junior High cafeteria in two weeks, with a car wash scheduled along with it, weather permitting.

Adult volunteer help will be needed, especially the supervision of qualified professionals for plumbing and electrical work.

SAC leaders met last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Berry, Glen Meadow Road, and again Monday night at the high school, on plans to repair the McArdle building. Berry and Robert Eastman, 13 Crestwood Drive, have volunteered to solicit advice and help from professional contractors, according to Recreation Director Leslie Bartow and Mrs. Jean Gibson is assisting the young people in fund raising. Some public donations have already whose director, James Carroll, is on the recreation department payroll.

A suggestion has been made that SAC become a non-profit corporation to lease the building, which would seem to remove it from direct town responsibility. SAC leaders and their parent advisors find this a discouraging prospect. Town Manager Maynard Austin told the TOWNSMAN that SAC has been a regular part of the town recreation program for several years, and he sees no sensible reason why it should stop being a recreation department responsibility of the town.

Austin also said that volunteer adult help, advice and skills are very important to SAC but that continued professional leadership by the recreation department is necessary, not only for SAC today, but to provide continuity and involve border groups as the present SAC leaders graduate.

The selectmen will be considering these alternatives, hammering out town policy toward the recreation department's SAC program, and discussing the leasing arrangements for the McArdle house, at its next meeting on Monday.

To Attend Theater Institute

Francis M. McEvoy, III, of North Andover, and Stevan L. Sylvester of Bath, Maine, both sophomores at Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, will attend the second semester of the National Theater Institute at the Eugene O'Neill Memorial Theater Center in Waterford, Conn., beginning Jan. 23. They will be among students from 22 schools attending the Institute, which is in its first year. The National Theater Institute is an undergraduate theater education program designed to give students of theater a concentration in the theater profession at an early stage in their training. The emphasis is on encouraging the student to put his abilities to use in a professional context and to begin making artistic decisions based on the strength of his early experience.

McEvoy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. McEvoy, II, of 64 Russell St., North Andover. Sylvester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Sylvester of 279 Washington St., Bath, Maine.

Warrior Teams In Action

By Rick Harrison

Fans of Andover High sports will get a chance to see both the hockey and basketball teams in action this Saturday. Both Golden Warrior clubs will be competing in pre-season Jamboree play.

The hockey team will meet Tewksbury during the seventh annual Merrimack Valley Schoolboy Hockey League Jamboree at the Merrimack Valley Forum in Billerica. The Andover-Tewksbury encounter will be the third of four "games," and is scheduled to face-off at 2 p.m.

Under special Jamboree rules, the teams will play two 10-minute periods under regular game conditions. During the regular season, all contests will consist of three 12-minute periods.

The Forum, for anyone who has not been there, is located at the junction of Rtes. 3 and 129 in Billerica. It can be easily reached by taking Rte. 495-South to the Rte. 3 exit.

All eight MVHL teams will see action in the Jamboree. The Wilmington-Chelmsford battle at 1 p.m. will kick things off. Defending champion Burlington tangles with Billerica at 1:30 o'clock, Andover-Tewksbury at 2 p.m. and Masconomet vs. North Reading at 2:30 p.m.

The Golden Warrior hoop team will host the annual Varsity Club basketball Jamboree for the benefit of the Warren C. Deyermund scholarship fund on Saturday evening at the AHS gym.

A foul-shooting contest at 7 o'clock will be followed by the first of four games, Lowell vs. Tewksbury. North Andover faces Reading in the second game, Methuen meets Stoneham in the third tilt and Andover taps off against Central Catholic in the finale.

Here is a capsule analysis of what both squads have in the way of personnel this year.

Hockey -- The Andover ice team will be starting its fourth full season of varsity hockey in the MVHL. In the first three seasons, the Golden Warriors have always produced a winning team. Two years ago they put together a good record to qualify for the post-season Eastern Mass. Tournament, and then advanced to the quarterfinals before bowing out.

Last year they placed third in the MVHL standings during the regular season with a 9-5-4 mark for 22 points. They trailed Burlington, a three-time loop champ and always the team to beat, and Wilmington.

However, the Golden Warrior skaters came on strong to win the league's playoff championship. They edged Wilmington, 4-3, in double overtime and then shaded Burlington, 3-2, in double overtime for the title.

Andover will be operating under a new head coach this year in former Boston College defenseman Dick Valle. Valle, a gym teacher in town, was assistant coach to Charlie Vars last year. Vars stepped down to pursue a career in the home construction business.

Valle will be assisted this year by Bob Doyle.

Although the Golden Warriors lost their entire first line and two top defensemen from last season, they still have several experienced players back. They also boast some promising newcomers.

Leading the way will be last season's second line - Steve St. Jean, Dick Anderson and Rob Flannery. St. Jean, who captains the Warriors, was tied for 12th in the league in scoring last year with 16 points. He also pocketed the winning goal in the playoff finals against Burlington.

Anderson collected four goals and six assists for 10 points in 1969-70, while Flannery had four points.

Junior defenseman Jim Stewart (4 points) is also back, as is front-line goalie Allan Chapman. Chapman, playing most of the time in net for Andover last year, posted one shutout and a 2.01 goals-allowed mark.

Among the promising newcomers are a pair of boys who did extremely well for Coach Dick Neal's Bantam 'A' team. They are sophomores Scott Seero, who scored better than 60 points last year for the Bantams, and Ed Flannery.

Andover, along with Burlington, Wilmington, Billerica and Chelmsford, is expected to be a title contender in the evenly-matched loop this year.

The regular 15-game campaign will start a week from Saturday, Dec. 19, at the Forum when Andover faces Masconomet at 3 p.m.

Basketball -- Although this year's club will have to go some to beat the performance of the 1969-70 Golden Warrior hoopsters, it should still be another great season for Coach Wil Hixon's quintet.

All last year's club did was (1) win the Merrimack Valley Conference title; (2) win the Eastern Mass. Class C crown, and (3) reach the semi-finals of the State tournament before bowing to eventual champion Boston English, 78-68.

Gone from that team, perhaps the finest Andover has ever had, are Co-Capt. Dick Muller and Paul Howe and 6'7" center Shawn Mason.

However, starting guard Dave Hixon, "sixth man" Steve Lanier and Art Nichols are among the returnees who saw considerable action last year.

Andover also had several excellent undergraduate squads, including an undefeated freshman team and a powerful JV aggregation.

Among the promising youngsters are four who stand at least 6'4". Sophomore Scott White goes 6'7", Dana Carmichael is also 6'7", Scott Smith stands 6'5" and Steve Alexander, who saw some varsity action, is 6'4". This quartet also bids very well for the Golden Warriors' future.

Joe Crush, a 6'2" transfer from Pennsylvania, may be the best acquisition Andover has ever received. Hixon is very high on the senior forward, who last year was the starting center for a Pennsylvania high school team which went all the way in the Quaker State tournament.

Crush is a deadly shooter and a rugged rebounder. He reportedly sank 87 percent of his foul shots last year, and should fit into the Golden Warriors' picture quite well.

All in all it should be a very successful winter for AHS.

Girl Scouts Preparing For Trip

Twenty Senior Girl Scouts of Troop 39 Andover - North Andover are busy preparing for a three-week trip next July to the Girl Scout Center West in Ten Sleep, Wyoming and visits to Yellowstone, Grand Teton, Arches, Canyonlands and Mesa Verde National Parks.

The program during the trip will include an opportunity to hike, backpack, camp, horseback ride and participate in an archaeological project at the Girl Scout Center. Troop 39 is classified as a Panorama Troop which means they are busy exploring several fields of interest such as Art, Homemaking, Trailblazing, International Friendship and Community Action. The trip planned through its program and preparation will afford the girls a wider learning experience than those which they have experienced in their past scouting years.

In addition to planning and executing the trip the girls are busy participating in training for community service and Aide Bars. Each Aide Bar earned by Senior Scouts represents 50 hours of training and service.

Members of Troop 39 are presently working on the following: two, office aides in church offices; one, teacher aide, one laboratory aide at Lawrence General Hospital, two hospital aides at Tewks-bury State Hospital, one hospital aide at Bon Secours, two public relations aides at the Girl Scout headquarters, one aquatic aide and several tutors in the YMCA swimming program at Phillips Academy, two program aides in junior troops and one in a Cadette troop, and one library aide at South School library.

The training and experience acquired in earning these Aide Bars is so structured that upon completion the scouts will be qualified to participate on a voluntary basis in the various areas mentioned.

To acquire the means to take such a trip the girls have planned a series of fund-raising events: rummage sale, Lawrence YWCA, Dec. 10, 5 - 9 p.m., Dec. 11, 9 - 12 noon; Christmas tree and wreath sale, Standard International parking lot and also Purity Sav-

Mor lot, Andover, Friday, Dec. 11, 5 - 9 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 12, 9 - 5 p.m.

The Buses

Shawsheen residents received little satisfaction last week from the school committee when they requested busing for kindergarten pupils attending the Shawsheen school.

The parents of the 'toddlers' were concerned about them crossing the busy Shawsheen Square intersection, particularly at noon, when some would be going to class and others coming home.

The school committee apparently has a policy of not busing children who reside less than a mile from the school. But, a check of the situation, shows that all kindergarten pupils in the Bancroft school are bused, as are some children in other schools.

This would appear to be a relaxation of the policy.

The question, of course, is, are Bancroft students different from those who attend the Shawsheen school?

Why the preferential treatment?

It must be well understood that youngsters of kindergarten age are in more need of protection than older ones. They are young, impulsive and certainly more accident prone than older pupils.

Certainly in the Shawsheen Square area the possibility of accidents is much more than in other areas of the town.

In the Bancroft area, South Main street is certainly a dangerous thoroughfare and precautions should be taken. But the entire kindergarten classes are not composed of residents of that street, many living on the quiet residential streets in the area.

It would seem that serious consideration should be given to the youngsters in the Shawsheen area by the school committee. After all, Bancroft school, the original masterpiece of open education, should not receive preferential treatment.

The safety problems of Shawsheen square, particularly at noon, should be plainly visible to school officials.

The problem should be solved as quickly as possible.

The residents of Shawsheen are paying an equal amount of taxes as those who send their children to Bancroft. They are entitled to equal treatment and protection.

Negotiations

The decision to hold negotiation sessions between the professional educators and the school department behind closed doors is indeed a bad one.

No doubt new salary schedules will be decided upon.

To hide the requests from the general public, which provides the funds for these salaries, is poor policy.

Taxpayers of Andover have consistently provided ample funds for education.

No doubt they will continue to do so.

But it seems completely improper to proceed with negotiations for not only salary but fringe benefit requests shielded from public notice.

Not until all the demands have been agreed upon will the general public have knowledge of the cost of public education in 1971.

Already threatened with a $7 increase in next year's tax rate, certainly the citizens are entitled to know the requests and progress of the development of the town's largest budget item.

What, frankly, is there to hide?

A Tribute

Tonight there will be a gathering of several hundred people at the Andover Country Club to pay tribute to a man who has retired from the town's service.

Roy Russell, who has retired after over 20 years on the police department, gave considerable of himself to the town of Andover.

In addition to his service on the police department, he served on town boards and committees and for some time served as chairman of the school committee.

In his years on the police department, he was a counsel to youth of the community. He was the type of police officer to whom youth could turn.

When young people were in trouble, he was quick to admonish them and put them on a proper course. He was as quick to praise youthful accomplishment.

The tribute being paid tonight, by his countless friends is well deserved.

We hope that his years of retirement will be rewarding.

For the pleasures and help he has extended to many in his lifetime, it is most deserved.

Off The Top Of The Desk

'Tis a pleasant time of year, most assuredly.

The area is aglow with holiday decorations and it is interesting to see the different sections of town being illuminated with the Christmas lights from night to night.

Also, the radio carries the pleasant sounds of the Christmas season.

It is a happy time.

Unfortunately it lasts for so little time.

Then the dark, bleak winter weather sets in so quickly and the joyous season is over for another year.

A Boston radio station last Sunday put on a delightful hour, without commercial interruption.

The program was dedicated to the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

A complete history of the events of World War II, beginning with the Dec. 7, 1941 attack, through to its conclusion, was interspersed with the music of those years.

Featured were such bands as Glen Miller, the Dorsey brothers and all the big bands, as well as the tunes that brought back memories to many a veteran of that era.

At this time of year, it is well to remember those in need.

One of the finest methods is being sure that all are remembered in the Eagle-Tribune Santa Claus fund.

The Eagle-Tribune Santa annually visits the areas needy folks and insures that their Christmas will be a happy one.

A most worthy cause.

Just a reminder to parents! Don't wait until Christmas eve to start putting together those Christmas toys.

Tab A into loop B, etc., as today's modern engineers have so masterfully informed us, do not go together that easy.

Many a Christmas eve is spent in frustration trying to master such instructions.

So starting early is a good idea.

With the little snow and ice conditions of the weekend, it is a good time to remind motorists to be aware of winter driving conditions.

Snow tires or chains are good protection, but with snow on the ground or ice on the roads, it is still wise to be cautious.

Keep a safe distance between cars, drive slowly and be prepared to stop when necessary.

Hockey is becoming a most popular sport.

Artificial rinks are overloaded with requests for ice time.

Many teams in the Boston area are unable to find places to play, since the rinks are filled with teams already scheduled.

The same condition is becoming prevalent in this area, as more and more teams are organized from youth leagues on up.

Could the Boston area be taking over from Canada as the hockey capital of the world?

Men's fashions certainly continue to change.

Becoming more popular this season are the artificial fur coats to go along with the fur hats on men.

Many a male who wouldn't have been seen in some of the styles now being sported years ago, are not in the swing and proudly attired along the main streets of all communities.

Arithmetic Can Aid Heart

In many ways, planning for the future is a matter of arithmetic -- the arithmetic of mortgages, college funds, and retirement plans. But there's another kind of arithmetic that's just as important to your future, says (your) Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association. It comes from research studies of the health and habits of thousands of people, and has enabled medical science to provide guidelines by which an individual can determine whether he is increasing the possibility of having an early heart attack.

The guides are "risk factors" -- health conditions and habits which can increase the risk of having a heart attack in the prime of life. In addition to high blood pressure, they include overweight, a diet high in animal fats and a high level of cholesterol in the blood, lack of exercise, and cigarette smoking. They play interacting roles in the development of coronary artery disease, the precursor of heart attack.

Far from being alarming, this news can be encouraging, for it points to measures anyone can take to eliminate or control the risk factors in his life. So it may help to look at the "arithmetic" based on studies of middle-aged people who have had heart attacks: -- People with high blood pressure have a risk of premature heart attack four times greater than those with normal blood pressure. -- Men with high blood cholesterol have a risk of premature heart attack three times greater than that of men with low cholesterol. -- Excess weight multiplies the risk two or more times. -- Cigarette smokers develop heart disease at a rate two times greater than non-cigarette smokers. -- Sedentary men appear to be especially prone to fatal heart attacks.

Individuals with multiple abnormalities demonstrate up to a ten-fold excess risk of coronary disease. Conversely, the elimination of one risk factor makes it easier to eliminate others. A return to normal weight will often bring down elevated blood pressure. Moderate physical exercise can bring about a loss in weight; and cutting down on animal fat in the diet may not only lower the cholesterol in the blood but can also help in losing weight.

With such rewards in store, the prospect of breaking with risky habits may not be so difficult. This will mean having regular checkups to detect elevated blood pressure or any other condition that requires treatment, and co-operating with your physician to bring them under control; it means giving up cigarettes; or, with your doctor's guidance, it may mean starting an exercise program, or dieting to bring down weight and blood cholesterol.

Acting now on a decision to reduce your risk of heart attack will multiply your chances of living longer -- to enjoy the financial security you've worked most of your life to attain, says (your) Heart Association.

For further information on reducing your risk of heart attack, write to your Northeast Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association, located at 79 North Main St.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I have noticed many references to a new water supply for the town. This will involve using part of the Merrimack River supply and a lot of money. I have also been noticing the level of Haggetts Pond has dwindled and must be down at least 6 feet in spite of adequate rainfall and Fish brook. I think it is about time that the Water Department gave an explicit history and current use of our water in this town. This involves the amount going to the homes, to named industries, and to office buildings. It should state how it is used in these buildings. We have been going along for the past six years with numerous reports from the Water Department about the use of Haggetts Pond and of industries. But, at no time have we had a complete and explicit report on the use and abuse of water in this community. Such a natural resource as this should be the great concern of the town.

Robert Bellarmine Church, Andover, recently completed a 23-mile hike following the route taken by Paul Revere in 1775 in which he rode from Old North Church, Boston, to the Old North Bridge in Concord.

The troop camped Friday night at Camp Oak Boy Scout Camp in Bedford. Saturday morning they were driven to Old North Church where they were given a tour by the Vicar and wished good luck on their journey.

The 27 scouts then proceeded across the Charlestown Bridge, through City Square, along Rutherford Avenue to Sullivan Square, thence along Broadway to Main Street, Somerville. The route then followed High Street through Medford and then into Medford Street in Arlington. Having left Old North Church at 9:30, they arrived at Arlington Town Hall at 12:10 p.m. Commencing at 12:30 following Massachusetts Avenue in Arlington, they proceeded to Lexington Green, arriving there at 2:40 p.m., where a historical presentation was made describing the events which transpired there in 1775.

At 3 p.m. the group left Lexington hiking through the Minuteman National Historical Park and following the Battle Road to Concord and eventually to the Old North Bridge, arriving there at 6 p.m. The 23 miles were completed by all scouts with a marching time of approximately 7 1/2 hours.

The troop then returned to Camp Oak to spend Saturday night.

The troop will receive the Historic Trails Award issued by the Boy Scouts of America to encourage a knowledge and appreciation of our nation's history.

Church League Underway

The Andover Church Basketball League pried the lid off its 24th season of action Monday night, as five Junior Division contests were played at the East Junior High gym. Things couldn't have started in more exciting fashion, as two of the games went into overtime and a third was decided by just two points.

The 11 Junior quintets will play a 10-game schedule while the 10 Intermediate teams, who don't begin play until Dec. 21, will engage in nine games apiece.

Defending Junior champ West Parish A, St. Robert's B, Christ Church, West Parish B and St. Robert's A all posted opening night victories.

A clutch lay-up by Mitchell Rousseau, 25 seconds into a sudden-death overtime period, lifted St. Robert's B to a 12-10 triumph over South.

It was an exciting game from start to finish. St. Robert's B grabbed a 6-0 lead after one period. It led 8-2 at the half and 8-4 after three quarters. South came on strong in the fourth stanza to tie the score 10-10 after regulation time.

After a scoreless two-minute overtime period, Rousseau penetrated underneath to bank in the winning basket.

Rousseau also took game scoring honors with 8 points, while Billy McGuire and Scotty Praetz added 2 points apiece. Other St. Robert's B standouts included Gregg Praetz, Jay Caputo and Kris Larson.

Alan Gould and Will Washburn paced South by dunking 4 points apiece, while "mini-man" John Sagaser added 2 points. Washburn hooped four key points in the fourth period as South caught up.

Other sparkplugs for the losers were Mark Howe, Bobby Kilgo, Doug Taylor and Tony Trujillo.

A free throw by Scott Wilton in overtime pulled Christ Church to a come-from-behind 9-8 victory over St. Augustine C.

St. Augustine C, scoring all of its points in a second quarter explosion, led 8-4 at the half. But Christ Church slowly pulled even 8-8 by the end of regulation time. This set the stage for Wilton's heroics.

Wilton led all scorers with 5 points, and teammate Billy Gouger stuffed 4 points. Outstanding floor play was contributed by Greg Stupack, Dave and Bill Joy, John Cunniff and Rob Fitzgerald.

Big Ed Reming fired in 4 points for St. Augustine C, while Timmy Dubois and Shawn Reming each canned one bucket. Frank Campbell and Steve Dubois were other sparklers for the losing club.

Defending champion West Parish A had its hands full before edging past a determined St. Augustine B quintet, 14-12.

The victory extended West A's three-season winning streak to 27 straight games, and the team has now won 45 of its last 46 games.

St. Augustine B led 6-3 after one quarter and 8-5 at the half. West A pulled into an 11-8 lead after three stanzas, and then held on for the victory.

West A guard Mark Conlon played a great all-around game, scoring 7 points and contributing several steals on defense. Paul Rosetti also stuffed 7 points for West A, including an insurance free throw in the closing seconds.

Other West A stars were Dave

Alexander, John Crush, Frank Comparato, Bruce Etter, Brian Bronson and Jeff Smith.

St. Augustine B also received excellent all-around play from its two guards - Glenn Lefebvre and Dave Farrell. Farrell popped in 8 points and Lefebvre 2 points. Bill Walsh also had 2 points.

John and Tom Walsh and Steve Moriarty were other standouts for St. Augustine B.

Dave Bradner poured in 10 points to spark West Parish B to a 22-0 triumph over St. Augustine A. John McEwen and Glen Brody pumped in 4 points apiece, while Gene Harris and Joel Smith delivered 2 markers each.

Peter Newton, Paul Fitzpatrick and Andy Campbell were other West B sparkplugs.

The St. Augustine A attack was spearheaded by Charlie Wiseman, Mark Bedell, Danny Caselden, Doug Royal and Jay Dilorio.

A well-balanced scoring attack guided St. Robert's A to its 10-4 win over Baptist. Bob Goldstein led the way with 4 points, while Larry Weitz, Timmy Saunders and Bob Murray each contributed 2 points.

Scott Goldstein, Glen Sutherland and Owen Keegan also played well for St. Robert's A.

Ricky Collins, who hustled all

Music To Our Ears

By Edward P. Grigoli

In order to realize how important Afro-American music is to American culture and its influence in the development of Jazz of yesterday and today, it is necessary to begin with the African penetration of Spain which occurred around 758-1492 during the Mohammedan conquest.

The highly individualistic and non-European rhythmic character of Spanish music, tangos, habaneros, etc., was derived from African influence.

The highly individualistic and non-European rhythmic character of Spanish music, tangos, habaneros, etc., was derived from African influence.

Afro-Spanish music started to develop with the African slave movement into Latin-America which in turn penetrated into North America through Spanish possessions and the importation of slaves. It also must be noted that Spain controlled New Orleans around the 1700's and the important part that New Orleans played in the early development of Jazz.

Therefore, Latin-American influence was a definite factor in Afro-American music from the earliest times, and Latin-American rhythms continue to influence the progress of Jazz, as these rhythmic patterns are constantly being used in many contemporary styles.

MOVING ALONG. Work on the restoration of the former Fieldstone's restaurant by the Andover Lodge of Elks is moving along well. Here, Philip Rudolph, carpenter is hand hewing beams for the building, while Frank Debruyckere, lecturing knight, Armand Hebert, foreman and Exalted Ruler Larry Huffling examine plans. The Elks are hopeful that the building will be ready and open New Years eve.

To Present Doll Collection

On Thursday, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m., the American Association of University Women will meet at Brooks School, North Andover.

The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Patricia Gorton, an AAUW member from Georgetown. For the past nine years Mrs. Gorton has made a hobby of collecting antique dolls and studying their history. We will be hearing of her experience in this field and about her own collection which has dolls dating from circa 1700 to the mid-Victorian Age. Her collection also includes antique doll carriages and chairs.

We would also appreciate it if guests would bring samples of their favorite cookie and a written copy of the recipe so that we can have a recipe exchange after the talk. Christmas cookies would be seasonal but not essential!

Another Education Forum Eyed

The organizers of the November 15 Educational Forum at the high school are planning a return engagement, and aiming to have it before the February vacation.

Mrs. Garry Stephens, speaking for the groups, which has the League of Women Voters Education Committee as its nucleus, said that the tape playbacks and reports of the forum indicated the following major points, in the committee's eyes.

a) The need for a Parent - Teacher - Student Organization at the High School. The committee expects a 1st meeting of this group by Jan. 15th.

b) The need for a return to a strong home room situation, especially at the High School. A request for this has been sent to Administration and we hope to see this in Sept. 1971.

c) More Experiential Education. Steps are already being taken to include some of the Outward Bound techniques.

d) More teaching of self-discipline at the lower levels. This can be achieved thru more decision making situations for the student.

e) Need for more community involvement in the teaching. This area is being worked on and it is hoped that the businessmen will soon be a familiar sight in the schools. Other resource people are already being used.

f) Need for Friends of West Junior High and other schools like the Friends of East Junior High. We have not begun work on this as yet.

To Discuss School Building Selected As All-Stars

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 10, 1970 29

More than a score of Merrimack Valley area city and town officials will meet in Andover, Thursday, Jan. 14, as part of a unique state-wide study of school planning and construction costs recently commissioned by the Mass. Advisory Council on Education.

The Andover meeting, scheduled for the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn, is one of several slated in a year-long study designed to materially assist Bay State municipalities now facing a critical shortage of school building space.

Through its office of research, the Mass. Advisory Council commissioned the Boston architectural firm of Campbell, Aldrich and Nulty to lead a multi-disciplined team of architects, cost consultants, educational consultants, lawyers and security analysts to carry out the study.

In announcing the original study plans to Mass. mayors and selectmen, Nelson Aldrich, member of the architectural firm and project head said, "Two factors are central to the shortage of schools; one is the great length of time required to plan and construct them, and the second is the rapidly increasing cost in school construction."

"Building costs are rising at a rate which far exceeds the national growth rate or a community's ability to pay," Aldrich said.

"In addition to the out-of-date construction site procedures," he said, "construction costs are high by themselves, but now inflated interest charges aggravate the problem."

In further explanation of the task before the study group, Aldrich continued, "To reduce building time and stabilize costs, the Mass. Advisory Council on Education commissioned us to examine every phase of the school building process, including programming, planning, state and local approvals, building codes, design, construction, bidding, contracting, bonding and taxation."

"Our particular focus here," he said, "is to study the feasibility and implications of a program to introduce 'system building' into Massachusetts schools."

"System building is a technique for overcoming many of the current obstacles facing us," Aldrich said, "for example, it employs standardization of details, prefabrication of components, tighter scheduling, and better organization of site operations."

Aldrich also said, "A key feature of the system built schools is increased flexibility of room arrangement to insure that future changes may be carried out with a minimum of time and money. Such flexibility is a built-in insurance policy against premature obsolescence that has afflicted so many of our schools."

The first round in a series of five regional meetings are attracting appointed and elected officials including state senators and representatives, mayors, selectmen, school committees, school superintendents, school building committees and finance and planning officers from cities and towns.

The meeting schedule which began on the North Shore on Wednesday, Dec. 2, convened in Framingham, Dec. 4, moves to Westfield State Teachers College on Dec. 10, Southeast to Brockton High on Dec. 12, and winds up in the Merrimack Valley area in Andover on Jan. 14.

A second round of meetings is planned after preliminary information has been gathered which will enable the study group to exchange regional information.

to be hopeful that there will be no strike," Postmaster General Blount said. "If a strike does occur, we will utilize every alternative mode of transportation available to move as much mail as possible."

"However," he said, "I would be remiss if I did not strongly urge mailers to deposit out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately to insure that the rail strike - if one occurs - does not prevent delivery by Christmas Day."

Early Mailing Is Urged

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount today urged immediate mailing of all Christmas cards, parcels and other holiday mail as a safeguard in the event of a national railroad strike.

Postmaster Frank J. Mooney made a special plea to customers of the Andover Post Office saying that an extra effort to mail early this Christmas season "will give added assurance of delivery in time for the holidays."

The announcement was made by the Postal Service in view of the pending nation-wide rail strike tentatively scheduled to begin shortly after midnight, Thursday, Dec. 10 - during the period that holiday mail customarily begins climbing to its peak. "We continue

Apollo 14

Cachets To Be Available

Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 14 manned flight to the moon.

Philatelic coordinators designated for the Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Force 140 and 130) will receive all such covers and make distribution to assigned recovery ships.

To permit adequate time for handling of covers, collectors should send pre-stamped, self-addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator at least three weeks prior to the scheduled launch of Apollo 14, covers should be received prior to 8 January.

In accordance with U.S. Postal regulations, only United States postage may be used on covers submitted. Stamps (postage) of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used. Cash, money orders or checks in lieu of postage cannot be accepted. It is requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches, with a filler inserted to simplify handling.

Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, each recovery force coordinator will accept a maximum of two covers from an individual collector.

When more than the authorized number of covers is received, they will be returned unprocessed. Covers received too late for distribution to Recovery Force units will also be returned unprocessed. Addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific area Coordinators are: Apollo 14 Covers, Task Force 140, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va. 23511.
